

Three Tips to Planning the Perfect Family Summer Road Trip

By Nichole Smith, Social Media Coordinator with Lodi Station Outlets

Summer's just around the corner and what better time to start planning your family's summer road trip. No matter where you're headed, here are some tips to get you moving in the right direction.

Get the family involved in the planning – Have the children to help choose stopping off points, events or attractions to see along the way. Search local visitor bureau's websites that are along your route in order to gather dates and times for fun events and places to see.

Allow for spontaneity – Save time in your road trip schedule to stop of the beaten path or a place you may not have planned for. Sometimes the greatest memories and fun are the unscheduled kind.

Prepare for the boring – Load up an activity bag with fun things to do while riding in the car. Portable DVD players and movies, books, puzzle and travel games, notebooks and coloring books will help beat boredom.

Pack and dress comfortably –Light colored, loose fitting clothing and breathable fabrics will wear the best and be the most comfortable for drivers and your passengers. Save the dressier outfits for your destination.

Before your journey, be sure to stop at Lodi Station Outlets for the best luggage, apparel and accessories at great bargain prices. With stores like American Eagle Outfitters, The Children's Place Outlet, Toys R Us Express, Aeropostale and Totes Isotoner Sunglass World, we can help you save so there's more to spend on this summer's road trip.
